Welcome to the 2026-27 “Shelley & Steven Einhorn Celebration of Jewish Life” Series!

From Rabbi Fishel & Ettie Zaklos

Jewish life is filled with stories, laughter, ideas and inspiration. This year’s “Celebration of Jewish Life” brings them together in a season created for our entire community to enjoy.

Over the coming months, we will laugh with acclaimed comedians, go behind the scenes with actors and filmmakers, hear from gifted authors, and listen to powerful voices from Israel and throughout the Jewish world. Each program brings something different, offering a meaningful and entertaining way to explore who we are, where we come from and the story we continue to write together.

At Chabad of Naples, our mission has always been to spread warmth, love and unity. Wherever you come from and however you connect to Judaism, you are welcome to join us as we celebrate our heritage, deepen our connection and create wonderful memories together.

We are deeply grateful to Shelley and Steven Einhorn, whose names the “Celebration of Jewish Life” proudly bears, and to our generous sponsors, whose support makes this remarkable season possible. We also extend a special thank-you to Ted Epstein for the tremendous time and effort he has devoted to putting this year’s program together. It is always a pleasure to work with him.

We cannot wait to welcome you for a season filled with laughter, learning, inspiration and Jewish pride.

From Ted Epstein, coordinator

I look forward to gathering together this season as we honor the rich tapestry, enduring traditions and vibrant spirit of Jewish culture. The seven events in this series have something for everyone – you’ll laugh, cry, be entertained, amazed and inspired.

Jewish culture is a dynamic story woven from centuries of heritage, art, wisdom and community. Through engaging speakers, inspiring performances and meaningful shared moments, this series offers a space to explore the depth and diversity of our history while embracing the joyful ways Jewish life continues to evolve today. Whether you are reconnecting with cherished traditions or discovering new perspectives, we hope these events spark curiosity, connection and pride.

An undertaking of this caliber is only possible with the extraordinary support of our generous sponsors and community partners. Your commitment and generosity have transformed our ambitious plans into a reality. Thank you for ensuring that our shared stories and culture continue to thrive.

I am honored to work on this incredible program with Rabbi Fishel and Ettie Zaklos, Chabad of Naples staff, devoted committee members and dozens of outstanding volunteers.

As you look through this brochure, I invite you to celebrate the rich heritage that unites us. Thank you for being an essential part of this journey.

Producer Nancy Spielberg grew up immersed in filmmaking, working on her brother's early films as cast and crew. An accomplished businesswoman and philanthropist, she has turned her energy and talents to producing documentaries and feature films. One of her priorities is to help preserve stories and make them into educational tools for the benefit of younger generations.

Spielberg served as consultant on the Oscar-winning documentary Chernobyl Heart and is executive producer of Evasive Justice: The Search for Nazi War Criminals, which aired nationally on PBS. In 2015, she produced Above and Beyond, winner of the audience award at more than 20 film festivals. She is the executive producer of Who Will Write Our History, which tells the story of the secret buried archive of the Warsaw Ghetto. The film continues to be screened globally.

Spielberg is also executive producer of several of Dani Menkin's films: On the Map, which was released in 2016 and is the recipient of multiple awards; Picture of His Life, which premiered in 2019; and Aulcie. She executive produced Laura Bialis' documentary Vishniac, which premiered in 2023. Kevin Pollak is a prolific American actor, comedian and impressionist known for his versatility in both high-stakes dramas and classic comedies. He has appeared in over 90 films and was named one of the Top 100 Comedians of All Time by Comedy Central.

He started as a stand-up comedian in San Francisco and became a touring pro by age 20. A few years later, he moved to Los Angeles with dreams of appearing on The Tonight Show Starring Johnny Carson, and being in movies. 200 auditions later, he landed a few TV and film gigs, which proved enough to get him to the couch of Carson's show. He instantly became a regular, appearing on the show two or three times a year.

In 1992, Pollak's role in Rob Reiner's A Few Good Men proved his ability to stand out on the big screen among cinematic icons. The unplanned transformation of him becoming a dramatic actor was further established two years later, when he co-starred in The Usual Suspects and Martin Scorsese's Casino in the same year.

Pollak has co-starred on a few television series. From 2016 to 2022, he played a recurring role in Better Things. From 2017 to 2023, he was a regular cast member as Moishe Maisel on The Marvelous Mrs. Maisel.

Kevin Pollak was also a pioneer in the podcast world. He hosted the long-running Kevin Pollak's Chat Show (2009-2019), where he conducted interviews with Hollywood stars. There are hundreds of interviews to choose from on YouTube, including with Jason Alexander and Stephen Tobolowsky, who are also presenting at the "Shelley & Steven Einhorn Celebration of Jewish Life."
